OREGON PINOT NOIR 2021

"Comprised of equal portions of fruit from single vineyards in Oregon's Umpqua and Rogue Valleys, this undergoes aging entirely in neutral French oak barrels. It is very easy to enjoy at this young age, as there are no woody notes to be integrated and no acidic edge to be softened by aging in bottle. The relatively light body reminds you that this is from Oregon, but the ripe flavor profile and soft texture are a bit more reminiscent of a California take on a Pinot."
